

The Redsys Group steadfastly opposes any conduct that involves harassment in any of its forms in the labour and social spheres, specifically that which is perpetrated through the use and dissemination of personal data which involves illicit processing that may violate the rights to the privacy of our employees.

Thus, the Redsys Group has established necessary and timely measures to combat harassment, including sharing this link to the Priority Channel of the AEPD. This serves in reporting urgent and serious cases of digital violence, thus promoting its prompt withdrawal from digital environments, in which it is being spread.
